A well selected musical program rendered on harp and violins added a great deal to the pleasure of the well served dinner amid the luxurious surroundings.

The most important event in society circles yesterday was the prettily appointed luncheon given by Mrs. W. W. Armstrong at the Commercial club. The affair took place in the gold room of the club and the guests, numbering forty, were seated at eight small tables which were gracefully decorated with vases of red roses and delicate foliage.

Among others who entertained last evening at the Salt Lake theatre at the first of the performances of "Polly of the Circus" were Colonel and Mrs. Edwin F. Holmes, who had with them in their staff as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knox.

SALT LAKE THEATRE.

In the case of a wholesome, appealing play like "Polly of the Circus," it does not seem to matter that it has been given in the city before and only a little more than a year ago. As audiences go this year, when so many good things are offered, it was a good one that attended the opening performance last night at the Salt Lake theatre.

The fascination of the sawdust ring is enhanced by its representation on the stage. The three scenes of the latest act recall midsummer and Walker's field or carry one farther back to the end, including the immediate family and relatives. The house was beautifully decorated with a profusion of chrysanthemums, palms and ferns. The bride, who was unattended, wore a pretty gown of pearl gray voile over silk, with a corsage bouquet of American Beauty roses. Mrs. and Mrs. Unger will reside at 248 South Ninth east street.

It is brought out in the story that there is an aristocracy of circus life, and that often the business continues in one family for generations. Homely touches, which one recognizes as faithful delineation, are scattered by the circus has upon the curious and consequence-ridden natives of a country village; the devoted people themselves to one of their number, and the excellent characterization of the townspeople and the attaches of the circus.

The company is made up of capable players. Miss Ida St. Leon is the charming little Polly of the title role and she gives a delightful portrayal. Assisting in the production of the tent were the faithful by Anne Mortimer, and Hasty Jones by Stuart Johnson is so good a stage darkey that one forgets it is a play. The role of the minister is fairly well handled and the townspeople have been presented in a realistic way during the week, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

"Nancy," the comedy in which Grace Cameron is appearing at the Colonial, will be given for the last time at the Colonial tonight. The play is a wonderful voice is heard to great advantage in the several numbers that she sings during the week.

Rocky Mountain lodge No. 2, Knights of Pythias, will give a benefit performance at the Colonial tomorrow evening for the purpose of raising funds for their new building. They have secured the services of Philip Keene and company to present "Damon and Pythias."

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

Big audiences welcomed the Orpheum's new bill to Salt Lake Sunday and yesterday afternoon and last night the Sunday scenes of enthusiasm were repeated. Several of the acts are of headline quality and the entire bill has been voted more than acceptable by the house's patrons.

FAVERSHAM COMING.

A play with a great theme and a wonderful cast will be seen at the Colonial the last two days of this week. William Faversham is bringing his last and probably greatest success, "The World and His Wife," for a limited engagement of three performances, with Julie Opp and his own company supporting him.

THE I. O. B. B. MINSTRELS.

By Milton D. Joseph. They are coming to our city. Men who are both bright and witty, And are loaded down with jokes. That you cannot burn or drown; That will be sprung upon you. When the I. O. B. B. minstrels come to town.

There are tall men and short men, There are men that look like boys, All in a blaze of talent and know how to make a noise.

But all can sing and dance and joke, And are stars of great renown. And will show you how to make a noise. When the I. O. B. B. minstrels come to town.

The date, December 13, is drawing mighty near; You better get your tickets or you'll be too late, I fear. You will miss the songs and music, sung by Campbell, Marcus, Kent, And many jokes and chestnuts to us by the ancient sent.

Send out the great glad tidings with a vim that will not down, That the I. O. B. B. minstrels will soon roost in Salt Lake town.

SALT LAKE THEATRE.

This afternoon at 2:30 at the Salt Lake theatre the long-advertised Russian dancers will appear. A notable audience will be in attendance to see the renowned Pavlova and Mordkin with the Imperial Russian ballet and orchestra. The New York Telegram says of them: "It was like a Caruso night at the Metropolitan Opera house Saturday afternoon, when a most interested and interesting audience packed the great auditorium to the doors to give cordial welcome to those wonderful Russian dancers, Mrs. Anna Pavlova and Mons. Mikail Mordkin, who made such a hit here during the latter part of last season. The reception accorded the graceful pair was even more enthusiastic than that of their first night, and they must have been glad they came back to these hospitable shores."

"POLLY OF THE CIRCUS."

Ida St. Leon, who plays the title role in "Polly of the Circus," at the Salt Lake theatre the week beginning December 5, is just an overgrown girl, as she says herself, and consequently likes to play with the kids. So after the last Wednesday she invites all the children who attend to visit her after the performance, on the stage, and to play with her and the little Shetland ponies. That as many children as possible may take advantage of this invitation the management has placed the price of admission for children under twelve years of age at 25 cents for any seat in the house. This price is for the Wednesday matinee, December 7, only.

How to Have the Best Cough
Syrup and Save $2, by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take one pint of granulated sugar, add a pint of warm water, and stir about 2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 23 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready-made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly.

And you will find it the best cough syrup ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect and taste is pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, etc. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gualic acid and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used and prized in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has often been imitated but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.
